Take Control of Your Gases with Yokogawa and Insatech

We invite you to an exciting conference in Odense, organized in collaboration with Yokogawa. Under the theme "Growth for Sustainability," we will focus on how innovative technologies such as TDLS (Tunable Diode Laser Spectroscopy), GC (Gas Chromatograph), and ASI (Analyzer System Integration) can help you manage gases in your processes. The conference will primarily be conducted in English.

Why Attend?

The conference offers you broader and deeper knowledge of the instruments, as well as insights into future technologies and solutions that can make your business more competitive and environmentally responsible (sustainable). And last but not least, you will have the opportunity to meet experts and network with colleagues.

Registration:

The event is free, but we need your registration to arrange catering.

If this sounds like something for you, please register by January 18, 2025. You can register via this link: <https://forms.office.com/e/rRDqzpFenJ> – or by scanning the QR code below.

Please indicate in your registration if there are specific applications you want to hear about at the conference.

We look forward to seeing you!

Best regards,
Team Insatech
